CHARGES POLICE KILLED GAMBLER

District Attorney of New York Declares Force Was Scared by Revelations of Rosenthal

HE TOLD OF ALLEGED GRAFT

Man Who Was Murdered Gave Names of Crooks in Department to Whitman

NEW YORK, July 17.—With an open feud existing between District Attorney Whitman and the police authorities, developments of the most sensational character in the gambling situation were imminent today. Whitman openly charges that Herman Rosenthal, murdered in front of the Hotel Metropole, early yesterday, was the victim of the police system. He said flatly that he was killed not alone to colse his mouth, but the public place was selected for the murder so that others who might desire to "squeal" would be properly terrorized.

NEW YORK, July 17.—A mysterious woman dressed in green went to the office of District Attorney Whitman and told him that she saw a touring car similar to that used by the slayers of Gambler Herman Rosenthal standing in front of the home of Police Lieutenant Baker from 6 until 9 o'clock on the night before Rosenthal was killed. Whitman took the woman across to the coroner's office where, after looking at the car used by the murderer's and which stood just outside of the door, she said she identified it as the same machine which stood in front of the Baker house Monday night

'Gamblers Did It'—Police

The police bitterly denied, and resented Whitman's characterizations. They insisted that Rosenthal was killed because he talked too much about the gambling situation, and that he was put out of the way by the downtown gambling syndicate. They said they will prove this by the arrest within a short time of everyone of Rosenthal's murderers.

But Whitman is having an independent investigation made. He has positively asserted that he will place no credence in any case the police may furnish him. He declared that if the police were sincere they would have arrested the murderers on the spot.

Meanwhile the police declared they had their fingers on the situation. They intimidated that Louis Libby and William Shapiro, who owned the touring car that was used by the murderers, had furnished them with all the facts of the killing and with the names of the men who did the actual shooting. Shapiro the police said told them that there were seven men on the job, and that four took part in the actual killing.

The police were prepared today to arraign Libby and Shapiro in court on homicide charges and John Clark, a gambler, as a material witness. They were also holding without any charge, Louis Webber, a "broker" of 193 Second avenue. He was declared by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty to be in possession of certain information regarding the murder which he has consistently refused to give up.

Invetigate Baker

While the police were seeking the slayers of Rosenthal, District Attorney Whitman was setting in motion the grand jury wheels to investigate the charges of the murdered man that Police Lieutenant Charles Baker of the "strong arm squad" had loaned him $1,500 and declared himself in on a 20 per cent cut of the gambling-house profits.

One of the stories Whitman is investigating involves one of the best known of the higher police officials. It is rumored that Rosenthal declared he had paid tribute to this man during the last two years while he was running gambling-houses in downtown New York.

In his visits to the district attorney, it is alleged, Rosenthal laid particular emphasis on the activities of this official who has an international reputation He is alleged to have furnished the district attorney with the names of gamblers who paid tribute, with the amounts paid and with the names of the collectors.

Mrs. Rosenthal claims to have all of the information that her husband had on these lines and she has announced her determination to furnish it to the district attorney to avenge her husband's killing.

Blames District Attorney

That the real reason gambling has not been stamped out has been because the district attorneys in several counties included in New York city and the various courts have not inflicted adequate punishment on convicted gamblers was the declaration made by Police Commissioner Waldo this afternoon. In a letter

Scores Society Belles For Immodest Dress

BOULDER, Col., July 17.—The immodesty of the society belle's dress is dictated by the same desire to barter feminine charms for money that makes white slaves of their less fortunate sisters, according to Mrs. J. C. Hessler, wife of Prof. Hessler, of the University of Chicago, who addressed the Bolder Chautauqua here.

Women of today, she said, are breaking down the barriers that protect their virtue by appearing in public in gowns which should not be seen outside the intimacies of the boudoir, and by exhibiting themselves to the masculine gaze in peek-a-boo waists, silhouette skirts and form-revealing garments.

Miss Hessler said styles of today are a great economic waste and that the federal government should establish a bureau to regulate female attire, substituting artistic designs for fashionable ones.

PORTUGAL NEAR WAR WITH SPAIN

Alfonso Sends Note to Republic Which May Precipitate Clash Between Countries

SAY HE AIDS THE REBELS

Warning of Powers to Dons to Keep Neutrality Galls King and He May Refuse

MADRID, July 17.—Spanish-Portuguese relations suffered a violent wrench today. They were badly strained previously. If Portugal were strong enough there would be a clash. Some sort of trouble may yet occur if the Portuguese can get foreign backing, which is possible.

For some time the Lisbon government has complained that King Alfonso has been encouraging the royalist rebellion in northern Portugal. Finally, England and France were persuaded to tell him that he ought to maintain neutrality along his side of the frontier. Furious, but afraid to offend England and France, he made a pretense of doing it.

Evidently, however, the humiliation was too much for Spain to continue bearing indefinitely. It was given out from official sources here today that unless Portugal pays for having Portuguest royalist prisoners arrested on the Spanish side of the frontier and for keeping them after they have been arrested, they will be turned loose. It was added that Spain does not propose to mobilize its entire army to keep the royalists from going back to Portugal.

The tone of the announcement even more than its substance has enraged the Portuguese republicans and explanations are certain to be demanded.

NINE DIE WITH QUEER ILLNESS

Victims Succumb With Baffling Symptoms Soon After Settling on Illinois Farm

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., July 17.—State and county officials today took up the investigation of the "death farm" mystery here which has thus far cost the lives of nine persons. John Ackerman, the last of the nine to die, showed the same symptoms as the others, and all the doctors who examined him during his short illness admitted that they were baffled. All the victims became ill shortly after making their homes on the farm.

In the case of each victim the malady that caused death came upon them gradually. At the start the victim found himself wasting away. He grew thin, but doctors could find no reason for the growing weakness. Then a sudden paralysis seized the sick person and death came quickly, accompanied by suffering from many disarrangements of important organs of the body. Following death the body became spotted. The cases here, so far as the local medical authorities know, are without precedent.

LA CROSSE BOYS FIGHT REGULARS

Local Militia Companies to Take Part in Mimic Battle Against Troops at Camp McCoy

COL. HOLWAY COMMANDER

Local Officer to Lead Militia in Attempt to Outwit Forces of Standing Army

Fighting their way with all the strategy and maneuvers of modern warfare from Camp Douglas to Camp McCoy, near Sparta, a distance of about thirty miles over broken country, the two La Crosse companies, B. M, of the Third Wisconsin National guard, will encounter the trained troops of the United States next week in the most realistic mimic battle of their experience. The two companies under the command of Captains Fowler and Bradley, will leave for the "front" at Camp Douglas at 7:30 Monday morning and will arrive in camp at 10 a. m. They will immediately go into camp with the rest of their regiment, two companies from Sparta and Tomah joining them enroute and with the Second and Third regiments of Wisconsin guard, together with Battery A of Milwaukee and the Sixth regiment of Illinois National guards. They will camp three days at Camp Douglas.

Holway in Command

The three regiments and the battery will be under the command of Colonel Orlando Holway of La Crosse, who will assume the duties of brigadier general in the assault on the regulars encamped at Sparta. Altogether there will be more than 4,000 men under Colonel Holway's command when he attempts to rout the troops at Camp McCoy. Fully an equal number of regular troops will take part in the defense. Lieutenant Charles Rawlinson of La Crosse is a member of Colonel Holway's staff and has been appointed to take charge of the battalion commissary. Lieutenant Rawlinson has also been appointed assistant inspector of small arms practice.

The maneuvers between Camp Douglas and Sparta are expected to last several days and will be in the nature of a test of a new formation which has been worked out by army experts. The new "provisional regiment unit" which is the formation of three ordinary regiments under one command and containing nearly 4,000 men will be tried out. If it is found that the new unit is not unwieldy in handling, it may form the basis for the reorganization of the entire regular army of the United States.

Want Larger Regiments

There has been much dissatisfaction in army circles because of the size of the regiment as regulated at present and it is the claim of some of the experts that a unit of much larger size would prove more efficient in actual warfare.

The troops which leave La Crosse Monday morning will be in heavy marching order and will carry full field and camp equipment. The La Crosse boys will be engaged in the maneuvers for two weeks, returning to this city August 3. Colonel Morrison, commandant of Fort Leavenworth, will be the chief of the umpires during the maneuvers between Camp Douglas and Sparta.

BLAMES MEN FOR WRECK

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Chief Inspector Belknap of the Interstate commerce commission, who investigated the Ligonier, Pa., train disaster, reported today the accident was caused either by the failure of the dispatcher to deliver orders, or of the conductor to understand or obey them. The wreck occurred while a combination passenger car was running ahead of the locomotive.

SUICIDES IN HOTEL

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 17.—A man registered as C. F. Burns of Chicago was found dead today in the Hotel Radisson. On the table beside him was hypodermic syringe and a supply of morphine. Letters and a prescription tablet in the man's clothing lead the police to believe the man is Dr. A. P. Maschger, a prominent St. Paul physician.

LOCAL COUPLE ARE WED THIS MORNING

Miss Gertrude Kelly, 1311 Mississippi street, was married to A. E. Evenson in the parsonage of St. Mary's church at 10:15 this morning, Rev. Father R. B. Condon performing the wedding ceremony. The bridal couple left at once for a two weeks' honeymoon, during which they will visit Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Chicago. They will be at home at 1427 George street after August 1. Both young people are well known and popular in the city, Mr. Evenson having been employed for several years in the offices of the Burlington Railroad company. Among the out of town guests at the wedding were James Kelly, Eugene, Orr and E. J. Kelly, Mason City, Iowa.

Gifford Pinchot An Unwilling Tax-Dodger

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Gifford Pinchot, former chief of the forestry bureau and ardent Roosevelt supporter, was hailed today by Representative George of New York, as the "first wealthy man in Washington, if not in the United States" to confess to tax dodging. George made public an exchange of letters with Pinchot following the ex-forester's "complaint" that he has unwittingly escaped payment of $600 annually in taxes on his palatial residence here. He asked George to adjust the inequality.

"Your committee, I learn has developed the fact that small owners of property in the district are assessed for greater than large owners," Pinchot said in his letter. "In this way the poorer men are taxed most heavily, and those who are richest pay least in proportion."

Pinchot asserted that he engaged real estate experts to value his residence and found it is under-assessed $43,000.

HOUSE CREATES A NEW DEPARTMENT

Next President Will Have a Secretary of Labor in Cabinet Following Action

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Without a dissenting vote, the Sulzer bill creating a new department of labor, was passed today by the house. Sulzer was given an ovation immediately afterward when he was called to take Speaker Clark's chair to preside over the house. The measure which would add a new secretary to the next president's cabinet, was passed without a roll call.

Debate on the measure was concluded last Wednesday, the vote on the bill being the first business scheduled today—"calendar Wednesday," in the house. President Gompers and other prominent labor leaders have fought vigorously to secure enactment of the bill, as a recognition and important benefit to the workingman. The bill provides for transfer of the present bureau of labor, of the department of commerce and labor, to the new executive department, and authorizes sweeping discretion for the new labor secretary to offer federal intervention in labor disputes.

PANIC ON EXCURSION BOAT

NEW YORK, July 17.—A broken paddle wheel created a panic among 1,200 passengers on the Glen Island excursion steamer Aurora in Hell Gate, near the scene of the General Slocum disaster.

WARRANT OUT FOR SWARTZ'S ARREST

Grand Judy Returns Indictment Charging Him With Murder; Police Say He Lives

NEW YORK, July 17.—A formal indictment charging first degree murder against Nathan Swartz, accused slayer of 12 year old Julia Connors, in the Bronx, on July 7, was presented by the grand jury to Judge Mulqueen in the court of general sessions today. A warrant for Swartz's arrest was immediately issued and the police renewed their efforts to find the murderer.

According to a story circulated in the district attorney's office, the police have a suspect under surveillance in an adjacent state and wanted the indictment and warrant before making the arrest. The police place no stock in the theory of the Swartz family that Nathan has killed himself. They say that his arrest is only a question of days and that as soon as they have him his trial will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

U. S. ROADS BACK OF BRITISH KICK

Representative of California Charges Canadian and American Railways with Protest

TAFT AGREES WITH ENGLAND

President Thinks Exempting Our Ships Would Be Violation of Treaty

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The charge that American railroads acting with Canadian transcontinental lines instigated Great Britain to make protest against free tolls for American vessels through the Panama canal, was made to President Taft today by Representative Knowland of California.

"It is a railroad fight pure and simple," said Knowland after his conference with Taft. "Free tolls to American vessels means the lowering of railroad rates."

Knowland sad that Great Brtain had no thought of protesting until American and Canadian railroads got together and sent a delegation of Canadians to England.

"We built the canal and financed it," the representative declared, "and no congress will concede England's right to dictate how we shall charge toll."

The Californian said he doubted if this government would be willing to submit the question to The Hague tribunal, because all foreign interests would be against the United States.

President Taft is known to agree with the state department that American vessels cannot be exempted from tolls without violating the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. State department officials would not discuss today the detailed protest from Great Britain expected tomorrow. The department will forward the protest immediately to the senate. President Taft may send a special message with it giving his views.

The funeral was held at the Lewis Valley Lutheran church last Saturday, with Rev. Lillegaard officiating at the services. Burial was made in the Lewis Valley Lutheran cemetery.

Only Joy In Life Is Teaching Bird Oaths

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 17.—If a man is not permitted to teach the family parrot to swear, life is not worth living, and he might as well commit suicide.

This is the philosophy which Richard Sheppard, 35, acted upon today, when, being thwarted in his temporary ambition, he twice attempted to kill himself by swallowing the contents of two separate bottles of poison. Mrs. Sheppard succeeded in taking the poison from him before he had drained the bottle, but he is confined in a hospital.

Mrs. Sheppard says her parrot is a well mannered bird and that when she prevented Sheppard from teaching it to swear he purchased the poison and said he was "going where he could teach parrots anything he wanted to."

BAY STATE SCENE OF LABOR WARS

Fifty-two Strikes Now On in Massachusetts, and 20,000 Workers Are Idle

WORST IN STATE ANNALS

History of Commonwealth Contains No Precedent and Situation Is Growing Worse

BOSTON, Mass., July 17.—Labor conditions in Massachusetts today are worse than at any other time in the history of the Bay state, according to the records today in the offices of the state labor officials. Fifty-two strikes are on. Twenty thousand workers are idle as a result. The largest strike is at New Bedford, where 13,490 cotton mill operatives struck for abolishment of the graduated pay system which the owners substituted to get around the graduated fine system abolishde by the legislature. This strike threatens to extend to a dozen other mill cities throughout New England. In Boston, 3,500 street car employes of the Boston elevated, Surface and Subway lines are on strike. Three hundred painters are also out here.

Other cities where strikes of mill employes, shoe workers, or other skilled workmen are out, are Lynn, Ludlow, Lawrence, Huntington, Fall River, Clinton, Amesbury, Webster, Springfield, Everett, Lowell and Pittsfield. Haverhill may come into the list, if the threat of the Industrial Workers of the World workers there to call out nearly 1,000 shoe workers is made good. The Haverhill shoe operatives want more pay and double pay for over-time, with a fifty-hour week.

EMPLOYERS WOULD BEAT RISK BILL

English Capitalists Willing to Cause Any Labor Troubles to Discredit New Insurance Law

LONDON, July 17.—Determined to beat the new workmen's insurance law somehow, big British employers held a conference on ways and means today. The law provides for the payment of part of the premiums by the state, part by the employers and part by the employes. The employers cannot escape taxation for the state's share, but it is understood they are talking of a general reduction in wages to the amount of their own contribution. Then the workmen's attention will be called to the fact that they are paying for their own insurance.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George's open declaration of what the employers have long suspected, that workmen's insurance is only a step in a vastly larger plan for a social change, has alarmed some of them greatly and they are desperately anxious to upset his plans before he makes any further progress. Leaders of the movement think they will have their best opportunity during the first six months of the new law's operation, since the period will be one of payment for the insurance, while nothing will be paid back to them in return.

It is agreed that the proposed wage reductions will precipitate violent labor troubles, but the more trouble there is, so long as they can lay it to the workmen's insurance law, the better the measure's opponents will be pleased.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 17.—F. W. Mulkey, former United States senator, today announced his candidacy for senator from Oregon on the new progressive party ticket.

GIVES FIGURES OF TAFT'S CAMPAIGN

Hitchcock Only Manager of Political Contest Who Is Able to Recall the Amount

THE FIGHT COST $1,655,518

Largest Contribution Was from Taft's Brother; Declares $20,000 Was Refused from Dupont

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock, who was republican national chairman in 1908, today gave the senate committee which is investigating campaign contributions, the first detailed accounting of campaign finances it has yet obtained.

The total contributions for Taft's presidential contest amounted to $1,655,518, Hitchcock testified. Of the total amount $620,150 was collected by finance committees in states and was expended in the state campaigns. He said the net amount of the national campaign fund was $1,035,368.

Large contributions, Hitchcock said, were received only at the beginning of the campaign. Among those who sent money were: Chas. P. Taft, the president's brother, $50,000; William N. Cromwell, $25,000; Mr. and Mrs. Lars Anderson, $25,000; Andrew Carnegie, $20,000; William Smith Cochran, $15,000, and Frank A. Munsey, Whitelaw Reid and N. C. D. Bordens each $10,000.

Has All Records.

Hitchcock surprised the committee by declaring, in answer to a question by Senator Clapp, that complete records of the campaign were at its disposal. These books, he said, gave the name of every contributor in the 1908 campaign and amount given. There were further records, he said, accounting for every dollar of expenditure. These will be delivered to the committee.

Large additions were made to the general "war fund" by sending letters to 45,000 men of means in all parts of the country, asking each of them to contribute $50. This plan produced contributions amounting to between $200,000 and $300,000, Hitchcock said.

"Were any contributions made by corporations?" asked Senator Paynster.

"There were none," Hitchcock answered. "Congress passed a law in 1907 prohibiting the acceptance of contributions from corporations."

"Do you remember of any contribution refused by the national committee?" asked Senator Jones.

Returned $20,000.

"There was one contribution of $20,000 that was placed in our treasury by Gen. Coleman Dupont of Delaware, who was a member of the campaign executive committee," Hitchcock replied. "I told him that we ought not to receive the contribution because the government had pending a civil suit against the corporation of which he was president. The Dupont contribution was returned to him and it never entered the national or state campaign."

1904 CAMPAIGN COST $600,000

August Belmont, Who Gave $250,000 to Fund, Declares Total Was Less Than a Million

WASHINGTON, July 17.—That the democratic presidential campaign of 1904 cost less than $1,000,000 and somewhere in the region of $600,000 or $700,000, was the opinion expressed before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions by August Belmont of New York. The financier admitted to the committee that he had given something like $250,000 to the Parker campaign. This was inclusive of what he gave that year to state and local campaigns.

Senator Clapp insisted that Belmont give some exact statement of the amount in the campaign fund.

"I might say my figures of $600,000 or $700,000 were right, but I'm not certain that is a close estimate," Belmant said. "There is never enough money in the campaign fund."

"Do you know of any campaign contributions made by corporations?" asked Clapp.

"It was so long ago I cannot recollect," said Belmont. "I do demember one contribution, a check of $10,000 from Henry Havemeyer, that may have been in behalf of a corporation."

Havemeyer was the creator of the Sugar trust.

Belmont said that the check was returned to Havemeyer, because Chairman Taggart said the contribution was undesirable.

Belmont declared, in answer to questions by Clapp, that he could not remember any contributors who gave $5,000 or more to the campaign fund. Morton F. Platt had given $2,500 at his request. He had induced others of his friends to subscribe, but did not remember the amounts.

COP DEFENSE WITNESS

POLICEMAN IS BROUGHT IN BY DARROW TO IMPEACH TESTIMONY OF BERT H. FRANKLIN

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 17.—Peter Pierotte, a Venice, Cal., policeman who was called by the defense, resumed the witness stand in the Darrow bribery trial yesterday.

Pierotte's testimony was an effert to impeach the testimony of Bert H. Franklin, confessed bribe giver.

Among the important points brought out in Pierotte's testimony last evening, which were followed up today, was the declaration that Franklin had said to him that District Attorney Fredericks was one of his best friends; that he deserved all the credit in the McNamara case, and that he ought to be elected governor.

Horace Appel conducted the examination of Pierotte in the absence of Earl Rogers. So violent were the calisthenics in which he indulged that he broke a suspender button.

Women of La Crosse Marvel at Valeska Suratt's Beauty Secrets

Beauty Chat by Valeska Suratt, the World's famous Self-Made Beauty-Actress.

My heart feels elated at the gladness which I have brought to so many of my sisters. I little realized how great would be the response to my little beauty-chats which have been appearing in these columns every Wednesday. In the mail I see gratitude in every line, not only for the secrets themselves which I have given them, but because of the splendid results which they have enjoyed from them.

* * *

From the first, of course, I knew what these results would be. It was impossible for it to be otherwise. As I open my mail, I read a dear letter from Beulah, which reads: "This morning I was astonished no less than my daughter, who remarked upon the almost miraculous disappearance of most of the wrinkles in my forehead. And the crow's feet are almost gone. I can hardly realize it."

Another bubbles forth this way from Annabelle: "My sister used to think she had a queenly complexion. Mine was only ordinary. Now, in only two weeks' time, mine makes hers look almost like a pear-skin alongside of a delicately-tinted rose. I am just as happy as a lark. You are my dearest benefactor."

* * *

I am happy for your sake, Beulah and Annabelle, and for all the other dear friends who have shown such confidence in me, and gratitude for what I have endeavored to do.

There have been many requests for a hair-remover which will not burn or irritate the skin. I can do no better than give you what I use myself, and I know you will be just as much elated as I was at the result after trying nearly everything known. This treatment is remarkable for several reasons. It leaves very little if any trace of that strong odor which makes other depilatories so disagreeable. Besides, it leaves the skin pure, clear and soft, just like a baby's.

"This Hair-remover Leaves the Skin Pure, Clean and Soft, Just Like a Baby's."

At any drug store you should be able to get what is called sulfo solution. It will cost you one dollar, but it will last you quite a while. Apply this solution freely with the finger tips on the hair you want removed. Keep the hair moist with it until it has shriveled up. This will take but two or three minutes. Then wipe off with a warm, damp cloth and wash the skin with warm water, and apply a face cream. The action of this solution is almost magic.

Many requests have also been received for an ideal shampoo for the hair. No more delightful hair cleanser exists than the following: Dissolve one teaspoonful of eggol in half a cup of hot water. When entirely dissolved and the solution has become lukewarm, pour onto the hair and shampoo in the usual manner. It makes an exquisite lather. After rubbing it well into the scalp so it is perfectly clean, wash the hair thoroughly with plenty of warm water and rinse with cold water. The condition of the hair after using this shampoo is adorable. No other word can express it. It makes the hair silky, easy to handle and eliminates every particle of dirt and grit that accumulates on the hair and scalp. The druggist will let you have the eggol for not more than twenty-five cents.

DEBORAH K. asks how to get rid of dandruff. The formula for this appeared in these columns last Wednesday, but I will repeat it here, as it is the most effective dandruff remover I have ever known.

With a half-pint of water mix half a pint of alcohol. To this add one ounce of beta-quinol. Shake thoroughly, and it will then be ready to use. If you prefer you can use imported bay rum instead of the water and alcohol.

The beta-quinol you can get at almost any drug store for not more than fifty cents. The ordinary prepared hair tonics which you buy in the stores usually cost you one dollar. But this formula makes one full pint of the best hair grower and it costs you much less than a dollar.

This formula should be applied very freely after brushing the scalp generously for a few minutes all over. Rub the tonic thoroughly into the scalp with the finger tips.

After a while you will find the dandruff almost completely gone, and it will then vanish permanently.

NAOMI wants to know how to get rid of muddy complexion and the ordinary spotty skin that so many complain of. If Naomi will use my formula she will be thankful the rest of her days. It makes the skin youthful to a remarkable degree and pure and white.

Boil half a pint of water. Add two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. Keep stirring, while adding one ounce of zintone, until it is all dissolved. Then let it cool. If the cream is too thick to pour easily from a bottle, thin it down a little with more hot water. The cream will be white and satiny. After bathing in the morning, hold a wet, hot towel to the face several times for several minutes. Rub this cream on the entire face liberally. Let the cream dry on the face. Repeat this again at night. Any good druggist will let you have zintone for about fifty cents.

JUNE BRIDE complains that she has tried many things for wrinkles without success, but if she will use the following, even her husband will notice the striking difference in a short time: In one-half pint of boiling water, pour two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. In a few minutes add two ounces of eptol and continue stirring until all is dissolved. At first it will look like jelly, then it will start to cream. When it does this, remove from the fire and stir constantly until cold. Keep in air-tight jar. You should be able to get eptol at any good drug store and it should not cost you more than fifty cents. This is ideal also for wrinkled hands and sagging cheeks. Rub in well until the cream disappears. This cream will not grow hair.

TROUBLES asks the same question that thousands of women would like to know. Can the bust be developed? The answer will be found in the following formula:

In a half-pint of hot water, dissolve two ounces of ruetone and half a cup of sugar, all well mixed together. Of this, take two teaspoonfuls three or four times a day in a wine glass of water, after your meals. The druggist will let you have the ruetone for a dollar.

Those who will use this will be eloquent in their praises of this remarkable secret. The development will be very materially assisted by massaging the bust with the eptol cream mentioned above.

ROUNDHOUSE BOSS BACKS UP DRIVER

Declares Schroeder Was Not Drunk when He Took Out Train on Night of Wreck

CORNING, N. Y., July 17.—Positive confirmation of Engineer William H. Schroeder's denial that he was drunk when he took his train out on the fatal run, which ended in the Lackawanna railway wreck of July 4, costing 41 lives, was developed when the inquest was resumed yesterday. William H. Brady, night foreman of the Lackawanna roundhouse at Elmira, swore positively that Schroeder was absolutely sober when he took his engine out.

Brady also admitted that the real cause of the wreck was that engine 393 was sent out on a freighter run in a disabled condition. The engine could not make enough steam because her flues were leaking and finally the freight became stalled, and held up the Buffalo limited. It was the limited that Schroeder's express smashed into with fatal results.

Schroeder declared today that he had twice been "on the carpt" for slowing down his runs. The last time he said, he had lost two minutes because he slacked up to use a signal during a dense fog, such as prevailed the morning of the wreck.

Stanley Committee Report to Favor Dissolution of the Trust; May Be Unanimous

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Dissolution of the United States Steel corporation—the steel trust—will be emphatically recommended, probably unanimously, in the report of the Stanley steel investigation committee of the house, it was learned today.

The committee met again today and agreed to favor such a report. The government's suit against the company may also be endorsed, it was reported. On other points the committee is divided.

That the republicans minority on the committee may also agree upon one report on other phases of the investigation, was also indicated today. The republicons will meet alone in an effort to reach an agreement. Represenative Gardner of Massachusetts, and Representative Young of Michigan, are now preparing separate reports.

The full committee will meet again Thursday and attempt a final agreement upon the majority and minority reports.

The man who likes to get up early ought to be able to lie about most anything.

15,000 ATTEND NORWEGIAN MEET

Sons of Norway and Singing Societies in Annual Meeting in Fargo, North Dakota

O. R. Skaar, delegate from the La Crosse Lodge of Sons of Norway has returned from the convention of the Sons of Norway and the Norwegian Singing societies of the United States which was held in Fargo, N. D., last week. More than 15,000 persons of Norwegian parentage attended the big convention and took part in the exercises accompanying the unveiling of the statue of Rollo or Ganger Rolf which was presented to the Northmen of America by the French government.

The presentation speech was made by French Ambassador Mourgass and Congressman Hanna accepted the gift on the part of the United States.

Governor John Burke gave the acceptance speech for the state of North Dakota. The statue which was unveiled is a replica of the one unveiled in Rouoen last year. Prof. Julius E. Olson of the University of Wisconsin made the speech of the day, a historian narative in which he told the story of Rollo founder of the dukedom of Normandy 1010 years ago.

Mr. Skaar, on the behalf of the local lodge invited the Sons of Norway to hold their next annual convention in La Crosse but the convention was awarded to Eau Claire.

EXCURSION BOAT HIT

ONE BADLY CRUSHED BUT ALL PASSENGERS ARE SAFELY LANDED AFTER VESSEL IS BEACHED

NEW YORK, July 17.—The steamer Nassau, crowded with excursionists from Newark, N. J., crashed into the steamer Rosedale in Rockaway inlet yesterday, cutting a big hole in the Roselade's port bow. The Rosedale was beached and her passengers were safely taken ashore.

The accident took place in deep water, but a fleet of small boats were soon in attendance, and the Rosedale's passengers, who were bound from Far Rockaway to this city, were taken off and rowed ashore.

There was 15 feet of water in Sheepshead bay inlet into which the Rosedale was run, and quick work was necessary, but all were landed with no more ill effect than the scare. Fortunately there were only a few passengers on the Rosedale at the time and the work of rescue was not a difficult one.

The Nassau was able to continue on her journey although her bow as crushed in above the water line, and she will have to go into dry dock.

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood becomes infected with any unhealthy humor the effect is shown by some definitely marked disorder like Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, etc. Humors get into the blood usually because of an inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to expel all refuse matter do not properly perform their work, and an unhealthy accumulation is absorbed into the blood. Then instead of performing its natural function of nourishing the skin the circulation irritates and inflames it because of its impure condition. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only certain cure for any skin disease; external applications can only give temporary relief. S.S.S. goes into the circulation and drives all humors from the blood, and in this way makes a permanent and complete cure in every form of skin trouble. S. S. S. supplies the blood with the nutritive qualities necessary to sustain the skin and preserve its natural texture and perfect appearance. S. S. S. cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, and all other skin eruptions or diseases. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free.

THIS DECISION WAS CRIMINAL

Ice dealers of Schenectady, N. Y., have enjoined Mayor Lunn from furnishing cheap ice to poor people as a municipal activity. The court that granted the injunction went so far as to order the ice put up by the city sold at public auction. The mayor frustrated an attempt of the dealers to bid it in, and will continue to fight the case, final adjudication of which the dealers are attempting to put off until the heated season is over.

The dispatches declare that there is absolutely no law touching the subject.

Here is a case of the type which justifies the "recall of judges." The mayor was attempting a work of humanity, and a "court of law and equity" interferes to prevent it in the interest of an outrageous monopoly.

THE GARBAGE AND RUBBISH QUESTION

The United States government recently issued a report regarding ways that different cities adopt to solve the garbage and rubbish disposal problem. It covers 158 cities. The authority having charge of highways, usually a board of public works or board of public service, had exclusive control of this service in 63 cities; the health department had exclusive control in 44 cities and joint control, usually of the collection and disposal of garbage only, in 17 cities; the street cleaning or poor department had control in most of the other towns.

In some cities, all household refuse was collected under private arrangement and at the expense of the householder.

Incineration accomplishes the most complete destruction of garbage possible, and in recent years many cities have adopted this means of disposal. In 1909, thirty-six cities disposed of garbage by incineration. In thirty of these the plants were owned by the city and five by contractors. Steam power generated by the incineration of garbage in Minneapolis was utilized for heating and lighting the city workhouse and tuberculosis hospital.

Garbage collected in twenty-six cities was rendered or reduced for the grease, fertilizer and other by-products that might be obtained. In only one of these cities, Cleveland, Ohio, was the reduction plant owned and operated by the city. It resulted in revenue to the city of $107,295 from sales of grease, and $32,639 from sales of fertilizer. These receipts went far towards off-setting the total costs of the collection and disposal of garbage, which amounted to $153,849.

In fifty-eight cities, dead animals were both collected and disposed of by city employes, and in eighty-one cities they were both collected and disposed of by contractors. In other cities some or all of the dead animals were either collected or disposed of by city employes.

In many cities the small dead animals are collected by city while the large dead animals are removed free of cost to the city by the contractors for the privilege of utilizing them. In several cities where the garbage was incinerated, small dead animals were collected with the garbage and incinerated with it. Contractors utilized dead animals to much greater extent than did the city.

Cost of collection and disposal of dead animals varied greatly. In some cities the cost amounted to several thousand dollars; in other the service was performed free by contractors with the city for the privilege of utilizing the dead animals. Still other cities received a large amount from contractors for the privilege of removing these animals.

Plants for the incineration of refuse were reported by forty-seven cities, and a total of ninety-four reduction plants by eighty cities. Only two plants were owned by cities, one by Cleveland, Ohio, for the reduction of garbage and dead animals, and one by Milwaukee, Wis., for the reduction of dead animals only.

In this age of utilization of by-products, it is clear that cities have something to learn from industrial plants. The large sums occasionally paid by contractors, even for such a privilege as collecting dead animals, suggests that garbage and refuse may be a source of municipal income.

TAGS THE COLONEL WITH MR. COCHEMS

Henry Cochems' visit to Oyster Bay to "deliver the Wisconsin progressives to Colonel Roosevelt" should have been intercepted; there is no warrant for this high handed procedure on the part of Henry, and a writ of replevin should be sued out to recover the illegally converted property. It will probably be as late as November before the colonel realizes what really happened was that Senator La Follette wished Cochems on him. Incidentally, we suspect Governor McGovern is regarding Mr. Cochems from the angle of a man who is able to distinguish between an asset and a liability.

ANOTHER CASE OF UPPER CASE

Colonel Roosevelt admits that it was his refusal to dine with Lorimer that caused the latter's expulsion from the senate. Nor did he offend against good taste by placing the embarassment of announcing his confession upon another. As in all things, the colonel deals frankly with the situation at no matter what expense of the first person singular. But say! wonder how the Chicago Tribune, his "bull moose" champion, feels about being left holding the sack?

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Adaptable Alexander

There was a chap who kept a store,
And, though there might be grander,
He sold his goods to all who came,
And his name was Alexander.

He mixed his goods with cunning hand,
He was a skillful brander;
And since his sugar was half sand
They call him Alex-sander.

He had his dear one, and she came
And lovingly he scanned her;
He asked would she change her name
A ring did Alex-hand-her.

"Oh, yes," she said, with smiling lip
"If I can commandder."
And so they framed a partnership
And called Alex-and-her.

Apt to Bore His Friends

He was a suburban amateur gardener, whose pride in his tiny garden was apt to bore his friends. The other day he had taken his nephew—a youth fresh from a public school, round his retreat, holding forth at length on the four rose trees, pocket shrubbery, half-inch fountain jet with its little basin and a pair of gold-fish, and the summer-house which would almost admit two persons at once. The youth endured it all without retort, until he was asked to admire an "avenue" of about five feet in length. Then the worm turned. "The 'grounds' are certainly very handsome," he said, "but I think you might improve them considerably. "How so?" questioned the owner, divided between gratification and wounded pride. "Well, if I were you," suggested the young critic blandly, "I should take a strip off that flower-bed—say four inches wide—turf it over, and convert it into golf links.

An Old Friend

A colored brother, in a southern town, had joined every church in the hamlet, and had been baptized by immersion each time he was received into the fold of a different denomination. When he at last cast his lot with the Baptists the announcement was made that the baptizing would take place at four o'clock the next afternoon. One old sister in Zion leaned over and whispered to another: "Brudder Jackson done been baptized so often dat de fish in de creek most sholy be right well acquainted wid him!"

Not So Costly

City folks don't know everything. A young city bred cleric had got a country kirk, and after a bit he married a city bred young lady. Now the minister had a glebe and kept a cow for the supply of milk, but the young wife found that there was more milk supplied than was required, and, no doubt anxious to be economical, she said one day to her husband, "John, don't you think you should sell the cow and buy a calf. That will give us enough milk and will not be so costly to keep."

Easily Repaired

Shortly after the return from their honeymoon a young couple of Cleveland undertook housekeeping, the bride being especially desirous to put into practice the lessons she had taken in cooking. Returning home one evening the husband found his wife in tears. Between sobs he managed to learn from her that something terrible had happened.

"Dearie," she gulped, "it does feel too awful that the very first meet pie I should bake for you should be eaten by the cat."

"That's all right, my love,' said the husband, patting her on the shoulder, "I'll get you another cat right away."

The Cabby's Retort

At a busy crossing in Edinburg the other day a cabman was stopped by the policeman on point duty there to allow the cross traffic to proceed. The bobby, evidently proud of his authority, kept the cabby waiting longer than was actually necessary. The cabmin decided to proceed, although the hand of the police was against him. "Did ye no' see me haudin' up my hand?" roared the angry constable. "Well, I did notice it turned dark suddenly," said the cabby, "but I didn't know it was your hand. You see, it's taking me all my time to keep my horse from shyin' at your feet!"

The King and the Genius

A genius who had built an airship was asked by the king why he did not send it up. "Alas!" replied the genius, sighing; "having lived a blameless life I have no enemies to man it. Perhaps your majesty will supply a captain and crew from among your own enemies." "No," said the king, "I, too, am destitute of enemies." "I beg your majesty to forgive me," the genius said. "I spoke without reflection. You also have lived a blameless life." "Well, no," said the sovereign, thoughtfully scratching the royal head where it did not itch; "that is not just the way of it. The fact is, all my enemies have died a blameless death."

SHE'S CLEANING UP A WYOMING TOWN

Susan Wissler.

Dayton, Wyoming, was a wide-open town a few weeks ago. Saloons and gambling dens were running day and night in defiance of law. The better citizens of the village looked around for someone to lead them in a clean-up crusade, and finally agreed upon Mrs. Susan Wissler, nominated her for mayor and in the recent election Dayton voters elected her by a good majority. Mrs. Wissler was no sooner inducted into office than she began carrying out her campaign pledges. The gambling dens were driven out and the saloons given to understand that they must obey the law. Mrs. Wissler is the first woman mayor that any Wyoming town has ever had. She probably won't be the last, however as other Wyoming towns in need of cleaning are beginning to see the advantage of having a woman at their head.

The Professor's Mystery

I also arranged that my advertisement should appear in three morning editions. At the Gloria they had known me for some time, and the desk clerk readily agreed to my innocent subterfuge of "Mr. Tyler."

I was at dinner when the first and only answer came. The desk clerk brought it in to my table himself.

"How did this come?" I asked him.

"By messenger," he told me. "I meant to keep the kid so that you could question him, but as soon as I had receipted for it, and turned my back a moment to get some one his room key, the little imp slipped out. I am sorry I was so careless."

"Well, it can't be helped," I said, and tore open the envelope. The note inside was type-written and on aa single, unfolded sheet of paper. "If Mr. Tyler will come this evening," it read, "to the saloon on the northwest corner of Seventh Avenue and Fifth Street, and carry a book under his arm for identification, he will meet some one who will tell him, for a consideration, the present whereabouts of Oscar Slater." There was no signature.

"What do you think of that?" I asked, as I passed it to the hotel clerk.

He glanced it over and laughed. "I think," he said, "that it is a palpable fake. It's from some crook who probably makes his living by answering just such advertisements as yours. He is at the other end of this thing and, without the slightest information, is going to take a flyer at trimming you. Who is this Slater, anyhow? There isn't anything mysterious about him, is there?"

"Mysterious? No," I said. "Slater is a man who till six weeks ago kept a laundry on Park Avenue, and, as I couldn't find him there, I advertised for him; but there is nothing mysterious about him or his disappearance, as far as I know."

"Well," said the clerk, "that about settles it. This Johnny who wrote the note evidently thinks that there is something mysterious, and has answered in kind; which proves that in the first place he doesn't know anything about it, and in the second place that he is a crook. So that lets him out."

"Oh, I don't know," I replied; "I believe I'll go."

"Well, if you're only looking to get your throat cut," the clerk laughed, "go right along; don't let me stop you. But as for little Rufus, the brass horses of Xerxes couldn't drag me down there. Still, I'll lend you a gun if you must go."

"No," I said, "I don't want a gun. But you can lend me a book if you want to."

"Better take one," the clerk protested. But as I shook my head, I saw him glance down, half unconsciously, at my gloved hands.

"That's it," I said; "I think I can take care of myself."

Thh clerk flushed uncomfortably. "I suppose you can," he said; "come on out, and I'll give you the book."

So it was with a copy of the American Hotel Directory under my arm that I started out for Seventh Avenue.

As I half expected, my rendezvous was a dirty one. Only three men were in the place as I came in, and I sank gingerly into a sprung chair, by a little, grimy, wet-topped table. At the creak of my chair the bartender turned from rummaging a shelf behind the bar and brought his small, watery eyes to bear upon me. He was an unpleasant bartender, who evidently drank much of the liquor he dispensed, and whose great and bulbous nose was like some poisonous fire, which had broken out in the lurid smolder of the wrecked face.

"What's yours?" he asked, in a hoarse whisper that was evidently his natural voice.

I pondered. If it were true, as the clerk thought, that I was brought here one the chance that I might be worth plucking, it behooved me to go warily. Even this dreary wreck with a drop or two of chloral could make the strength that I relied upon useless.

"I'll take a small bottle of claret, if you have it," I replied at length. Wine has the advantage of coming sealed; whisky or beer in the open glass may be drugged behind the bar.

"Sure, we got it," whispered the bartender; and, indeed, to my surprise, I found the claret amazingly good.

Thus far, save for the bartender, no one had taken the slightest notice of either my entrance or my order. The three men at the bar stood leaning over their drinks with their backs toward me. Now, as I set down my glass, one of them turned and glanced at me hastily. He found my eyes upon him, and his glance only flickered over me for a second. Then again he turned his back upon me, with his head bent low and his shoulders hunched about his ears. I thought I heard a muttered word or so, then, still without turning his face toward me, he left the other two, and half slunk, half slouched out of the bar. Whether or not he had recognized me I could not tell, but I had known him on the instant. There could not be the least doubt about it. The washed-out, pimply face, the wavering blue eyes, and the long neck with its disproportionate, gulping Adam's apple had been too vividly impressed upon my memory ever in life to be forgotten. What he did here, I did not know; whether chance or design had brought him, but this was the Reverend Mr. Stevens, the man whom Ephraim Bond had employed to sanctify my marriage with Nancy.

He Went There

A certain man living in a New England village lost a horse one day, and, failing to find him, went down to the public square and offered a reward of five dollars to any one who could bring him back. A half-witted fellow, who heard the offer, volunteered to discover the whereabouts of the horse, and, sure enough, he returned in half an hour leading the animal by the bridle. The owner was surprised at the ease with which his half-witted friend had found the beast, and on passing the five dollars to him he asked, "Tell me, how did you find him?" to which the other made answer— "Wal, I thought to myself where I would go if I was a hoss; and I went there, and he had."

RAIL PRESIDENT IS OPERATED ON

A. B. Stickney, Former Head of Chicago Great Western, in St. Paul Hospital

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17.—Alpheus B. Stickney, former president of the Chicago Great Western railroad, who, when he retired from active work in 1909 on account of poor health, had established a national record for continuous service as chief executive of one road, was operated on Tuesday morning at St. Joseph's hospital for kidney trouble.

Mr. Stickney was in the operating room for an hour and a half. Although 72 years old, he seemed to stand the operation well, and it is stated by his physicians that unless unforseen complications arise, his life is not in danger.

Mr. Stickney was president of the Chicago Great Western from its organization in 1883 until 1908, and receiver of the road until January, 1909. He was the organizer and builder of the St. Paul Union Stock Yards company and packing houses in 1882, and was recently a member of the park board, when he agitated a new system of parks.

EBERHART OPPOSES SINGLE TERM LAW

ST. PAUL, July 17.—Welcoming visitors at the twentieth annual convention of the National Sheriffs' association, which began Monday afternoon at the Hotel Ryan, Governor Eberhart favored longer terms of office for the county custodians of peace, and uniform laws governing the office.

"I believe the office of sheriff is slighted in respect to the length of the average term," said Governor Eberhart in his address. "A sheriff with a two year term hardly has become well acquainted with his job before he is again in private life unless successful enough to win at the election. In my opinion the term should be four years so a sheriff may be able to establish a record or show himself unfit for the position at the subsequent election."

WOMAN CAPTURES INTENDED MURDERER

WINONA, Minn., July 17.—A posse of enraged villagers quickly organized yesterday when, it is alleged, an Italian waylaid and brutally assaulted a co-worker in the outskirts of Trempealeau village and fled. They took up the hunt over the hilly roads leading toward Winona, but had gone less than a mile when they found the fugitive standing in the middle of the road, covered by a double barreled shotgun in the hands of Mrs. E. D. Pierce, wife of a well known physician of Trempealeau village. The Italian's hands were upraised. He was taken to the village and locked up.

CHURCH WELCOMES ITS NEW PASTOR

Reception Held for Rev. Howard B. Leonard and Family by Tabernacle Baptists

The members of the Tabernacle Baptist church held a reception in honor of their new pastor, Rev. Howard B. Leonard, and family last evening in the church, Clinton and Avon streets. George B. Marvin, Mr. and J. F. Saltz, Mr. and Mrs. George Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Hampton acted as a reception committee who with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard stood in the lecture room amidst plants and flowers. As the members and friends came into the church they were introduced to the pastor and his family and then ushered to seats in the church auditorium. When all were seated a splendid program of welcome was carried out as follows.

George B. Marvin, Jr., in behalf of the church, rejoiced that everything seemed so favorable and hoped that the new pastor would be able to keep the members busy with church work and that his wife would keep the Ladies' society going. Rev. Sundt, in behalf of the Scandanavian Baptist church, extended greetings and wished the pastor and the church long years of prosperity.

Rev. Finch A. Clark of the North Presbyterian church extended congratulations to Mr. Leonard in coming to such a good church with such good people in such a good city with such splendid opportunities for good work. He also congratulated the church on being able to secure a pastor who seemed to meet the demands of the important field. In his usual pleasant and happy way, Rev. W. Adelbert Billings of the First Baptist church said that he rejoiced with the Tabernacle people because of the new and seemingly happy relations and hoped that such feeling might continue for many years, urging the members to remember that much more depended upon their faithfulness than upon the work of the pastor.

A splendid musical program consisting of a piano duet by the Misses Biglow and Spencer, a cornet solo by J. F. Saltz, accompanied by Miss Beatrice Saltz, and an organ solo by Miss Spencer, was given. After the musical program was completed all adjourned to the basement of the church, where refreshments were served. The church auditorium and basement were beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

GIRL DIES MAN HELD

CHARGES BEFORE DEATH SHE WAS FORCED TO DRINK AND KEPT A PRISONER BY YOUTH

BUTLER, Pa., July 17.—Charged with a serious offense following the death of 17 year old Stella Hockenberry of acute alcoholism, Carl Snyder today is under arrest and the police are looking for Nero Keister.

The girl's death has created a sensation such as has not stirred the county for some time. The three young people concerned are all connected with prominent families here.

According to the girl's story as told her mother and doctor Thomas Duff, she went riding with Snyder and Keister Saturday night. They took her to the farm of Dr. John Kelly, she alleged, and there forced her to drink whiskey. The girl said she was kept there until Sunday and then taken home by Snyder in a serious condition.

Her death followed and her story is being investigated.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE.

"The electric needle is a painful and expensive process for removing superfluous hair, and the same result can be easily and speedily achieved by applying delatone. Mix a little delatone with water; cover the hairs with this paste; let it remain two minutes; then wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

"To make thin, short eyelashes grow in long, thick and silky with a beautiful curl, apply plain pyroxin to the lash roots with thumb and forefinger. Applying pyroxin to straggly eyebrows will make them long and silky.

"A splendid protection against tan, freckles and sunburn is a solution made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint witch hazel. Gently rub over the face in the morning and all day your skin will be clear, soft and satiny—with no streaky discoloration. It will not rub off nor show like powder.

"Dry shampooing makes the hair bright, fluffy and clean—full of life and lustre. Put four ounces of powdered orris root in a fruit jar and mix it well with an original package of therox. Sprinkle a teaspoonful of the mixture on the head and brush it out thoroughly. This treatment requires only a few minutes and evening dampness will not affect your hair."

SWITCHMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

John Domstrich Saved by Soft Spot in Sand when Train Runs Over Him

What is regarded as a remarkable escape from death was the experience of John Domstrich, 826 St. James street, switchman on the C. M. & St. P. railroad, this morning when in coupling up some freight cars in the yards the cars started moving and he was pushed under the car in which position he was dragged for some distance. When caught under the car, Mr. Domstrich took hold of the breakbeam and rode in this manner for some distance. After a time the crew missed him and finding him made him release his hold. He was in this position when several cars pasned over him and had it not been that a soft place in the sand gave him room for his head it is thought certain that he would have met with death.

Mr. Domstrich, who is fifty-three years old, is a veteran railroad man, having been working for the railroad for about forty years. It was while he was coupling up some freight cars in the yards shortly after nine o'clock this morning that the accident happened.

Dr. G. J. Egan was summoned and Mr. Domstrich was immediately given medical attention. With the exception of a few minor bruises Mr. Domstrich suffered nothing from the accident and his early recovery is looked for.

ORGANIZED LABOR DEMANDS RECALL

Weber Censures Judicial Jurisdiction at Convention of State Federation of Labor

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., July 17.—In his annual report at the convention of the State Federation of Labor Frank J. Weber, organizer, Milwaukee, made an ardent plea for the recall of judges and attacked the courts for exceeding the limits of their authority.

"The courts have stretched their authority so far, and have extended their jurisdiction over matters which they were never granted by the founders of our governments," he said, "that is quite natural that the people are giving considerable attention to devising methods of curbing the courts.

"It is apparent that the people, acting through their representatives, can enjoin the courts (except the Supreme court) by legislating them out of existence in the several states; but the safer way probably is to forbid the courts to pass upon the validity of the laws enacted. Then if the courts should have the temerity to pass upon the validity of these laws, nothing more would be needed to bring the issue between the courts and the people to a speedy trial, which would result in establishing the principle of the rule of the majority.

"The many decisions of late years have aroused the people, so it is almost safe to predict that within the next ten years not a single interpreter of the law will hold his position against the will of the people.

"The honest judge will raise no objection to the people being equipped with the recall."

Five new laws for the protection of workers were advocated by Michael Levin, state attorney for the federations. They are in brief:

An amendment to the law limiting the hours of labor of women to eight a day.

Amendment to the convict labor law to exclude entirely contract labor and to give instruction in useful occupations.

A minimum wage law.

Amendment to the workman's compensation act to provide definite compensation for certain specific injuries and taking away the defense of contributory negligence.

Curtailing the power of the court to alter verdicts in damage suits where the damages can not be definitely ascertained.

Bills carrying these reforms will be introduced at the next session of the legislature.

According to the report of Secretary-Treasurer Fred Brockhausen the federation during the last fiscal year received $3,472.95 and a balance of $1,688.61 remains in the treasury.

For the defense fund $1,756.18 was received and $849.75 was expended, leaving $906.43. There remains in the special defense fund $151.45.

Under the heading of defense expenditures the following items were noted: Ta the A. F. of L. defense fund. McNamara case, $100; purchase of ten bonds in a Socialist daily, $100. Under general expenditures there appear: Half share with Milwaukee Federated Trades' council in labor column, official organ, $87.50; space in official organ, English, $35.42; space in official organ, German, $25.

SAYS FRANKLIN PRAISED DARROW

Witness Declares Witness Said After Arrest Lawyer Was Too Honest to Give Bribe

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 17.—That Bert H. Franklin, confessed bribe giver and star witness against Clarence Darrow, declared of his own free will that Darrow was "absolutely straight and too good a man to give a dollar for dishonest purpose," was the testimony of Frank Dominuez, an attorney connected with the office of Earl Rogers, in the Darrow trial today.

Franklin made his declaration, Dominuez stated, ten days after his arrest for bribery. It was made in a saloon, and was heard by John D. Rain and Frank Flynn, friends of both men.

George W. Hood, a dairyman living at Palms, Cal., was called by the defense. Hood is a close personal friend of Franklin, and during his testimony the "dark stranger" again crept into the case.

Early in January, Hood testified, Franklin told him that the stranger who had given him the bribery money was within thirty feet of him when the money was passed on to the juror who was to be bribed. After seeing the transaction, the man disappeared. Franklin, Hood said, declared during their conversation, that he had never seen nor heard of the man after that day, although he expected him to write a letter.

SMITH IS SORE AT PRESIDENT

Commissioner of Corporations Who Resigns Tomorrow Expected to Score Taft Roundly

WASHINGTON, July 17.—When Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, formally quits his office tomorrow, he is expected to have something to say about President Taft's publication of his letters to Roosevelt, giving advice as to the prosecution of the Harvester trust. It was stated today that Smith had been at outs with the administration since this episode, which he regards as an unpardonable breach of ethics, and that when his resignation takes effect, he will feel free to speak his mind on the matter.

There was every indication today that Smith will play an important part in Roosevelt's campaign. Immediately after his retirement he will go to Oyster Bay to consult with the expresident on plans for the progressive party, to which he formally swore allegiance in his letter of resignation to President Taft.

As Roosevelt has indicated that the corporation problem will be one of the issues which he is to keep constantly to the front in the presidential fight, it is believed that Smith will act as an advisor on this phase of the campaign. The present deputy commissioner of corporations, Luther Conant, will succeed him.

Among the amusements scheduled for this afternoon are races of every kind, including three-legged races, potato races and sack races. The climbing of the greased pole which will come off late this afternoon promises to be the feature in the comic line. Another interesting event is the rope walking contest. All of the contests are open to all who wish to participate.

Refreshments which are being served on the grounds and picnic baskets are playing a prominent part in the afternoon's pleasures. The picnic will continue until this evening.

GROCERS TO GIVE ANNUAL PICNIC

Big Doings at Myrick Park Next Wednesday; Huge Crowd Is Expected

FINE PROGRAM IS PREPARED

Grocery Stores Will Close to Allow Business Men Day of Fun and Rest

Myrick park bears the reputation of being one of the finest places in the northwest to hold a picnic. The grocers of La Crosse bear the reputation of giving the finest picnics ever pulled off in this vicinity. As a result when the grocers give their thirteenth annual picnic at Myrick park next Wednesday, July 24, the combination should be an event worth going a considerable distance to enjoy.

Every grocery store in the city will be closed to allow the grocers their wives, children and friends to take part in the day of fun and pleasure. Every grocer in the city will be prepared to serve his customers Wednesday but his services will be showing his customers a good time and his field of activity will be confined to Myrick park.

A big program of sports and competitions has been prepared. There will be everything from a baseball game to the fat man's race. Tugs of war and potato races will compete with wrestling matches and the women's long distance sprint for the attention of the crowd. Prizes will be offered for every event on the program. There is even a prize for the biggest family that attends the picnic.

The Grocers' association had planned on giving an excursion to Winona but it was decided that it would be more convenient to the greatest number to give the annual outing under the shade of the big trees in the beautiful natural park of La Crosse. It is expected that a huge crowd will attend and preparations are being made to attend to their comfort Wednesday.

he demanded that District Attorney Whitman prosecute his gambling investigation to the end and took direct issue with Whitman's charges that the police system was responsible for the murder of gambler Rosenthal.

Attorney Hibbard, who negotiated the $1,500 loan which Rosenthal alleged came from Police Lieutenant Baker, told the grand jury this afternoon that Baker had nothing to do with the loan. He said that it was made by Jack Rose, a fellow gambler, and that Rose had insisted on a dummy being used in the papers because he did not want his name to show in the papers.

WANT NEW TRAIN ON RENO BRANCH

Hearing on Railroad Service of Reno-Preston Branch to Be Held at Caledonia

CALEDONIA, Minn., July 17.—(Special.)—Agitation for better railroad service by citizens of the various towns and villages along the Reno-Preston branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad has lead to action on the part of the Minnesota Railway commission. A hearing, dealing with all phases of railroad transportation on the branch in question and especially relative to the improvement of passenger service, will be held here Wednesday, July 24.

For years the passenger service on the Reno-Preston branch has been inadequate and far below the standard which the patronage of this section of the country warrants. Great inconvenience has been caused by annual washouts and it is probable that the commission will order improvements to the road bed, calculated to eliminate this.

A move has been under way for some time in several of the villages to procure action on the part of railroad officials relative to placing another passenger train upon the daily schedule and for the inauguration of a Sunday schedule. Interested persons predict a strong fight at the hearing to bring this about, as this is considered the most opportune time that will be afforded.

He is survived by his widow, four sons, Reinhold, John, Albert and Frank, and four daughters, Mrs. Ernest Dengel, Mrs. Amelia Kister, Mrs. Mary Lyso and Miss Lizzie Eitlich.

The funeral will be held from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with Rev. Andreas officiating at the services.

MRS. C. CLEAVER DIES AT CANTON

Word was received here by friends today that Mrs. Charles Cleaver, aged 92 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Code, 1035 West Fifth street, Canton, Ohio, Monday night. She was well known in this city, having visited here several times. Her daughter, Mrs. Code, formerly lived in La Crosse, her husband having been an employe of the Burlington road. Burial will be made in Oakwood cemetery, Chicago.

Mrs. Cleaver was the wife of Charles Cleaver, one of the early settlers of Chicago. She was born in London in 1820 and came to Chicago with her parents in 1833. She lived there the greater part of her life.

GIRL ACCUSES NAOMI CROCKER

Says Woman Performed Illegal Operation On Her; Mother Corroborates Story

Sensational charges were made against Mrs. Naomi Crocker, 130 North Sixth street, in county court today, when Miss Mary Kronz of Winona, formerly of La Crosse, testified that Mrs. Crocker had performed an illegal operation upon her. The case was started against Mrs. Crocker two weeks ago by District Attorney James Thompson on complaint of the girl's mother, Mrs. Rebekka Kronz. After a preliminary hearing and arraignment, when Mrs. Crocker pleaded not guilty to the statutory charge which constitutes manslaughter in the second degree and for which the penalty is from four to seven years in the penitentiary, the case was adjourned by Judge C. L. Baldwin until today.

Several witnesses were called to the stand today by Attorney Thompson and testimony which was damaging in the extreme was given by different women. Mrs. Kronz, mother of the girl in the case, corroborated her daughter's testimony that Mrs. Crocker had performed an illegal operation on the girl and that her life had been endangered as a result.

That the woman's activities were not confined to girls in trouble was indicated by the testimony of several La Crosse women. It was shown that she solicited business in her unlawful trade when Mrs. Roy Straight, Mrs. Nettie Peters and Mrs. John Rybold testified that Mrs. Crocker had gone to the home of Mrs. Rybold and had offered to "aid her in case she ever needed it."

Officials today declared that they have been on the trail of the woman for several months but were baffled by the inability to get her victims to testify against her. District Attorney Thompson declared that all the witnesses necessary to procure her conviction have expressed their willingness to testify.

Attorney Charles H. Schweizer, acting for the defense, asked for an adjournment until Saturday morning, for the purpose of introducing testimony favorable to his client. This was granted.

MUSICIAN PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

Second Piano Recital of Frank Bibb of Minneapolis Is a Big Success

(Miss Harriet B. Oltman).

Delighting a large and appreciative audience at the Normal school this morning, Mr. Frank Bibb of Minneapolis gave his second piano recital in La Crosse when he appeared as a feature of the summer school lecture course. Mr. Bibb is a true artist and his numbers were enthusiastically applauded by his hearers, among whom were some of the most discriminating musicians in La Crosse. He has the crisp, decisive touch, the musical knowledge and the interpretative power that marks the genuine musician. His interpretations were just—they were not marred by any excessive mannerisms. Mr. Bibb was able to suppress his own personality in the personality of the composer he was playing.

While every selection was handled in a masterly manner, there were some that stood out especially. He reached for his climax in the Waldstein Sonata (Beethoven). In this Mr. Bibb was magnificent. His phrasing was suberb. Though his touch was firm and decisive, there was no heaviness in his handling of the masterpiece, as is so often the case with pianists. The pianissimo passages were handled with rare delicacy.

U. S. APPROPRIATIONS WILL EXPIRE SOON

Salaries of federal employes and expenses for federal departments for the month of July have been provided by an appropriation recently passed by congress. The former appropriations expired July 1. Much comment and concern was manifest by government employes near the latter part of June owing to failure of congress to provide for payment of salaries and expenses, but at the last moment a bill was passed extending the former appropriations until August 1.

Heretofore it has always been customary to make all appropriations of this kind for a period of one year. If further appropriations are not made before August 1, federal departments will again face the same proposition that was presented a few weeks ago, namely the suspension of all governmental work, including the mail service, weather bureaus, engineering departments and revenue departments. This will include the suspension of all river improvement work except that for which contracts have already been let.

BULL MOOSE IN ILLINOIS DIVIDED

Chief Supporters of T. R. Leave New Party Rather Than Put State Ticket in the Field

CHICAGO, July 17.—Progressive republicans of Illinois who will support Colonel Roosevelt for the presidency, today voiced the opinion that there would be no third party in the field for state offices. This view was based upon the action of the conference held here yesterday in refusing to co-operate on the call for the state convention for a state ticket. This action was immediately followed by the withdrawal of Charles E. Merriam, former republican mayoralty candidate of Chicago; John Simon, Chicago; Julius Kespohl, Quincy; Dr. John Doyle, Springfield, and Fred S. Wilbur, East St. Louis. These men had been fighting for a third party ticket for every state and county office. Merriam announced that he would continue to fight for progressive principles, but that he would remain within the regular republican lines.

The Roosevelt state convention will be held in Chicago August 3 and is specifically ordered to select Roosevelt presidential electors, delegates to the bull moose national convention and a national committeeman.

WANTS RISK MEN TO SHUN POLITICS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 17.—Voicing opposition to the activity of insurance agents in politics and advising the solicitors and officers of the company to shun this national pastime, President George C. Markham of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, today opened with his address the annual convention of the company, attended by over 500 agents from every part of the United States.

In his address, President Markham stated that the assets of the company are now more than $291,000,000, an increase for the year of more than $12,000,000. The prosperous condition of the company was commented on at length by the president.

MILD RIOTS IN BAY STATE STRIKE

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 17.—The first rioting of the present mill strike and lockout took place outside of the Butler mill today. One thousand pickets and strikers had gathered at the main entrance and tried to persuade the strike-breakers to join their ranks. When they refused, they started booing and jeering them, and the police reserves charged the crowd. They did not use their clubs, but contended themselves with pushing the strikers and their sympathizers from the vicinity of the mill.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The bulge at the opening in the wheat pit was short lived today and reductions were recorded shortly after the lively trading began. Liverpool reported higher prices, the market being influenced by unfavorable conditions in Russia.

Corn market was weak from the start. Liverpool corn prices were higher on account of the dock strike and the prospects of lighter Argentine shipments.

Oats reached lower levels upon reports of the most favorable weather.

Provisions held steady throughout the day.

OLYMPIC ROWING CONTESTS OPEN

Seventeen Nations Represented in Competitions Which Opened Today; U. S. Not Entered

STOCKHOLM, July 17. — The Olympic rowing competitions began here today. Seventeen nations are represented. The course is about a mile and a quarter long, right through the middle of Stockholm. One side of it is the Strandvagen, the city's principal society promenade, whence thousands are watching the contests.

In the eights, Australia, Canada, France, Italy, and Norway have a crew each entered and Germany, England, Hungary and Sweden two apeice. Belgium, Bohemia, Canada, Finland, England, and Holland have a crew each entered in the competitions for four oared outriggers and Australia, Austria, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, Norway and Sweden two each.

The Britishers are dissatisfied at having to have coxwains in the boats entered in this contest, but the Swedes insisted on it and had their way because the rules entitle them to it.

The "challenge cup" for the eights, which is not a cup at all but a statue of Pallas Athene, presented by Count Brunetta d'Usseaux is held at present by the Leander club of England, the winners at the last games. Leander is again competing.

CHICAGO GOLFERS TOUTED TO WIN

DENVER, July 17.—With weather conditions ideal for perfect golf, the first round of match play in the Western Golf association tournament began today on the improvised nine-hole course of the Denver Country club. Although the eight Chicago golfers who qualified are regarded as likeliest contenders, some classy golf has been shown by players from other sections. Warren K. Wood of Homewood Golf club, Flossmere, led the field in the qualifying round with a score of 69.

CUBS BELIEVE THEY WILL WIN PENNANT

CHICAGO, July 17.—Greatly elated over the winning of a hard fought game, the Chicago Cubs today prepared to tackle the Philadelphia National league bunch, hoping to register more gains on the leading Giants. Yesterday's game with the present leaders, in which the Cubs were better by a score of 3 to 1, put Manager Chance's hopes considerably higher. Yesterday Manager Chance said the Cubs "might win the pennant." Today he said: "The Giants are slipping. They have lost seven of their last nine games. Lavender and Richie could defeat them enough games this season to cinch the flag for us."

Cub fans believe the Pirates will make the Giants walk the plank in the series which starts today and when the Pittsburg-New York and Chicago-Philadelphia clashes are over, the Cubs will be within striking distance of the Giants and the flag.

Lavender looked easy in the early innings, but tightened up later.

Boston has won four out of five from Detroit.

Chicago used four pitchers. Against the four was Jackson, who knocked one of the longest hits on record for a home run and struck out ten men.

NEW MAYOR FIRES PREDECESSOR'S MEN

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 17. —Following one of the hottest political sessions in the history of the city, William Riddle was appointed mayor this afternoon by the new city commissioners. The followers of Henry Bacharach, tried vainly to swing enough votes to keep their chief in office.

One of the new mayor's first acts was the dismisal of seventeen life guards and twenty policemen named by Bacharach just before the commission election.

SHOOTS SELF AND SON; MISSES SPOUSE

PORTLAND, Ore., July 17.—Crazed with jealousy, Mrs. Nettie Walsh, attempted to shoot her husband, R. H. Walsh, in their home here today. She missed, and Walsh leaped out of a window and telephoned for the police. While he was gone, Mrs. Walsh shot and killed her four-year-old son, Vincent, and, turning the weapon on herself, inflicted two wounds that probably will prove fatal.

Brooklyn tied the score twice, but Wagner and Miller each knocked a home run and the Pirates won again.

The Cubs cut down the Giants' lead by four games during the present trip.

Gregg allowed four hits to seven men up. The champions defeated Cleveland 5 to 2.
